Sheep Raising Proves Valuable Says F. F. A.

Sheep are being adopted in this country on the grounds that little or no labor or attention is needed and in my study of sheep, I have found that most farmers favor sheep because they help keep the farm clean. It is true that sheep will eat most weeds and that farms which have a flock of sheep usually give evidence of that fact in cleaner fence rows and corners. It is also true that sheep raising requires little labor. I will state however, that sheep will not do well unless they are given the attention and care to maintain thrift yet the amount of work required is by no means heavy except at lambing and shearing time.

Many hundred of acres in this country which are unfit for the plow and not suitable for grazing by other animals, will return a profit in lambs and wool. The sheep's ability to fatten on grass and roughage, with little or no grain, I think gives us a good reason for adopting sheep in this country.

LITTLE MISS MAEDEAN MABERRY WINS SCHOOL HONORS AT BORGER

The Herald has a clipping from a Borger paper telling of the Grammar school graduating exercises in which Little Miss Maedean Maberry was granted the American Legion Award. This award went to a girl and a boy out of a class of 181. Maedean is also active in the school band and won first place in trombone.

MY HOME-TOWN (By Hazel Adkins)

NOTE: Below is the "Home-Town" speech that won first place in Hamlin to enable Miss Adkins to attend and compete for highest honors in the "Tome-Town" contest at the recent West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention in Big Spring. These annual contests stimulate local pride and patriotism besides a step in the development of the young people).

"When we look back through the annals of time to the year 1904, we see prairies, stretching endlessly dotted with an occasional clump of mesquites, and the maverick cattle wandering carelessly over the plains. As far as can be seen, the horizon is not broken by any sign of civilization. These were the scenes which were first to greet our pioneering forefathers; but did they turn back and accept defeat? No, they met their hardships face to face and turned defeat into victory. As they looked upon these barren scenes, they had vision and foresight of the future. But vision and foresight alone can never build a town. They too had courage, initiative, and a God-fearing spirit, which never wavered despite all the hardships of those colonial days.

"The span of years from 1904 to the present day is an epic of untold glories and unsung heroes. Little can we realize the grave responsibilities which rested upon these humble pioneers, but we can sing praises unto them for the splendid results of their brave and courageous struggles. Down through those immortal years of pestilence, fighting, and unforgettable experiences; a little town has experienced persistent growth. It is Hamlin, a town built by the perseverance and the courage of those brave few who first looked upon the barren plains of Texas.

Hamlin's actual greatness rests not on any one asset but on a combination: a fertile land area with rich agricultural production, an enormous treasury of natural resources, an abundance of prospering industries, a great resourceful population—all integrated under a form of government that has stimulated their development.

"When Coronado tramped these Texas plains, little did he dream that beneath his feet lay a liquid gold which someday was to become one of the world's greatest industries. This liquid gold was discovered near Hamlin. Men moved in from every point, and the town began to grow rapidly. Today the western horizon is broken by many producing wells.

A gypsum plant, located in Hamlin's trade territory, is noted as the largest in Texas. It operates on such a large scale that the company maintains its own church, school, retail store, and recreation grounds. Still another of Texas' largest industries is the Hamlin Hatchery.

A cotton mill became necessary as the production of cotton increased, and today the Hamlin Cotton Oil Mill employs over forty men and does business throughout the Southwest. In the colonial days the people gathered around the town pump to get their news, but today the Hamlin Herald boasts one of the most modern printing plants in the state.

Our pioneering forefathers visualized a town connected with other cities by highways and railroads. Their visions have taken form; for today Hamlin has three well-paved highways and two major railroads.

Although these accomplishments are truly glorious, we owe much more to those God-fearing pioneers for that indomitable fighting blood, which is instilled in the citizenry of Hamlin. The people of Hamlin with their high ideals and lofty desires are truly the most important asset. They are a people who believe in American democracy and fight for the true ideals of every American. They not only believe in the principles of democracy but they have built a town which is truly democratic. They realize that the success of any town is resting in the youth. The well-equipped schools and many beautiful churches reflect the interest they show in youth. These progressive citizens have supplied the youth with attractive parks, a beautiful lake, and one of the best theatres in West Texas.

Plenty Of Fresh Soft Water In Lakes; Use All You Can Pay For

Hamlin community, especially the immediate city and the communities east of town have all the water they need, at present.

Monday night another fine rain came to put four more feet in the New Lake. This with the 15 feet caught last week makes the new lake look good indeed. There are seven more feet to fill up yet before the water begins to run around the 600 foot east emergency outlet. Add seven more feet to the present depth and the lake will look very much like a young ocean. It is almost too good to be real.

Water from the new lake was started through the gravity pipeline Monday, and after running all day and all night and till afternoon on Tuesday, the treatment in the receiving plant was started and by the end of this week new water should be detected in the city mains. It is to be expected that the first few months or longer there will be some gyp in the new water, because the pipes are more or less incrustated with gyp. It may take longer to get away from the gyp deposit in the pipes. Samples of the treated water in the City Hall Thursday showed the fresh muddy water beautifully clear. And the test shows only 8 points hard. There is plenty of water now for all purposes, fish, and yards and gardens too, all that you can pay for. Use it as you see fit and as much as you want. This is what Hamlin people have been wanting to hear for thirty years. And say, folks, the new lake will continue almost as soft as rain water. Of course the first fill was red and contains more silt than it will have later. Remember it has been exceedingly dry for months, even before the new lake was started, over a year ago.

The rain fall Monday night did not put any more water in the old lakes west of town. The rain a week ago put them in fine shape. The upper lake filled and its water was let into the lower lake to fill it brim full. This leaves some yet in the upper lake and provides a storage place for the next rise that might come from out of Fisher County down California Creek. But we now look towards Dry California Creek for our water. This is the purest water in Jones County.

The rain Monday was very heavy on the east side of the new lake water shed, making the creek east of Boyd Chapel come over the highway. West of there it was light. Some localities north and west of Hamlin have not received much rain.

Check-Up Time Again For Herald Subscribers

It is necessary about every six months to ask the subscribers of the Herald to take a peep at the date shown after your name and see if the subscription has expired. We must keep the list up to date, and if you have received the Herald some weeks since your date expired, it is because we have waited on you to see the expiration time and send us a dollar or check. So watch and do not miss a copy. Next issue will be June 7, and maybe the list will be re-worked before then and all expirations might be taken out.

Right here, too, let us say that if you should miss a copy of the Herald let us know it. Sometimes it is our fault in the mailing and sometimes it is the postal handling, somewhere along the line. So we want you to "squeal" when you miss the Herald.

Hamlin Man Invents New Air-Conditioner

Since the coming of air-conditioning, there has been one mechanic in Hamlin who has given plenty of study and research to the subject. His name is J. Frank Johnson.

Frank has observed closely all the drawbacks the present day coolers have had and especially the old problem of preventing the conditioner from filling up with mineral sediment and fine lint, etc. Johnson has made several models and each time he has seen new possibilities to make a "fool-proof, clog-proof" fast circulating machine that is within the reach of most homes, offices and store buildings.

Mr. Johnson has applied for patent rights to secure for him the sole right to build and market his air-conditioner. It is not proper to go into detail here, as to the working features of the "Johnson Air-Conditioner," but the Herald has also studied the principle that is incorporated in the "Johnson Idea" and there is no doubt that he "has something."

One of the Johnson Air-Conditioners is already installed in Hamlin under adverse conditions—and such things as volume and installation are being tested. The machine is absolutely fool-proof and there is no danger of clogging up.

Frank will welcome your visit to his place and will build you an air-conditioner in a jiffy of a few days.

IT WAS BIG OILERS FIGHT SAT. SUNDAY

Two of the greatest independent base ball teams of Texas locked horns in Hamlin last Saturday and Sunday.

Hamlin's General Crude Oilers and the Snipe Connelly Texon Oilers have won the high tip top place as independents. They played here in the fiercest base ball battle that has ever been played in the Hamlin City Park, on Saturday and Sunday. Saturday the score ended with the Texon Oilers scratching out one run, leaving the local Crude Oilers with a big round goose egg.

The game opened up in fighting fashion Sunday. Then a break came for Hamlin when Ralph Hallum rapped out a home run and then a double, coupled with Lefty Courtney's superb pitching, the trick was turned for the home boys with a count of 4 to 0. Courtney gave up eight hits and Archie Peel let the Crude Oilers have 10.

A two-game series, 1 to 0 and 4 to 0 is base ball excellence with any team, professional, or semipro.

Evelyn Bowman left Saturday for a two weeks' visit with her friend, Mrs. T. E. Coleman of White Deer, Texas. Mrs. Coleman was Miss Louise Clay of this city before her marriage. Evelyn will visit relatives in Borger before returning home.

Claude Chastain, who has been attending the Kirksville College at Kirksville, Missouri, returned home Saturday. After spending the weekend with his parents, he left for Spur Tuesday to work for his brother, Neal A. Chastain, during the summer.

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT

AND A LITTLE BIT OF

THAT

Just been looking over "State Observer," published in Austin . . . Certainly a lot of fellows wanting to be elected to "something." Some of them have tried other fields and failed and this year they are picking around in a new area . . . just got to be elected to "something".

—T&T—

One thing the Herald in Hamlin is not guilty of . . . not a single free unsigned political announcement has been or is going to be published for any candidate. We do not feel called upon to foot the bill for anybody wanting to be elected to "something." Fellers, your pictures look good only when accompanied by the regular cash.

—T&T—

In Jones county the boys pay their way along the political highway and when their promise is not fulfilled the Herald will take their names out of the "Anxious Column" . . . That is fair to all . . . if one pays to keep his name before the voters, another should not ride free . . . There is no room for political "hitch-hikers" in the Hamlin Herald.

A total of 344,609 bales of cotton were exported from the United States during last April. England and France took 144,671 bales.

—T&T—

The United States imported 11,096 bales from Egypt, Persia, Mexico, British India. The last nine months, including April amounted to 123,184 bales.

—T&T—

The United States shipped 54,314 bales of cotton to Japan during last April, and 11,137 bales to China—none to Germany and 47,494 bales to Italy.

—T&T—

The State of Texas produced 4,952,378 bales of cotton in 1937 and only 2,736,764 in 1939—a drop of nearly fifty per cent.

Reckless shooting is going on, possibly by boys in Hamlin. Quite often we see thoughtless boys with various kinds of guns, and sling-shots, snipping at birds with no regard to people's comfort, or the rights of property. One report, that need not be made public, is that a certain piece of public property has been practically ruined by bullet holes. The dastardly destruction of that property may never be fastened on the guilty party, but already there is considerable evidence accumulated to nail it down. We still live in a land of protection, if people desire protection, and the trail of the stinking guilty is going to be kept hot till absolute proof is fixed. Just a hint here: Within the city limits, or within certain distances of property, all forms of guns should be prohibited with heavy penalties. Anxiety to kill birds or to practice marksmanship gets the upperhand of some boys and some grown-ups . . . such stuff leads to other crimes.

THE WAR:

In this hour of deepest gloom, depressed by what is happening and by what can happen and in all probability will happen to countries being murdered by unthought-of brute force, one's mind is more or less stupefied.

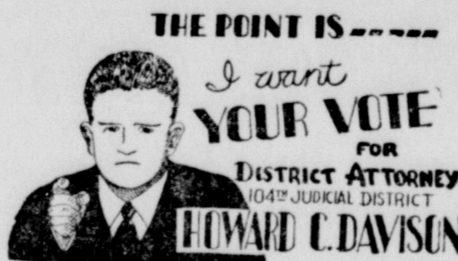

Every paper in America should say something, should reflect a little the thoughts and expressions of the immediate community, but what to say, where to begin and where to end is hard for any American to say to satisfy his own mind. The public is yearning for individual expression, on this and on that. For example we have a letter from our near-by McCaulley, opening a heart about the "fifth column" activities, etc.

Since the invasion and the slaughter of Holland, Belgium, and now the greatest of all military catastrophes, the surrender or the slaughter of a million fine soldiers in Belgium and France; since the complete realization of the terrible war machine of steel, explosives and speed of the Germans and their utter disregard of life, even their own, public sentiment in the United States has undergone a complete reversal. What the Herald could say on this subject would take many full pages. We have read of decisive battles. And a decisive battle is one that determines the future life of a nation or nations of the world. We do not believe the "Battle of Flanders" is to be decisive, yet it is bound to be one of the greatest defeats for the British and French, and possibly a greater defeat than any nation ever had, in point of numbers and materials involved, still we do not believe the battle now raging will determine who shall be the ultimate victor.

We have just looked over the picture pages of "Life" of this week. Every home and place of business, and more, every American should see and read carefully what this issue of Life so reliably represents. Horror is not a word sufficiently strong enough to convey what is illustrated in the page after page of pictures of the scenes in the greatest of all battles now raging. Remember this is an age of unheard-of picture possibilities. What the camera sees is exactly what the eye sees. No language can word what horrors this modern war is inflicting. Truly the whole civilized world is stunned and humbled by the situation that now prevails.

This is no time for political criticism. Every person who loves freedom is looking and listening for any expression of one not in sympathy with American ideals of freedom and Christianity. Many times unintentional words from the very ignorant might lead to trouble in this day when intelligence and strong hearts are so badly needed. Tolerance is needed as well as caution and alertness.

HERE AND THERE OVER THE LONE STAR STATE

For your "things I never knew 'til now," about Texas, add the following, taken from a list of Texas facts compiled by William Eilers of Austin.

The oldest and the smallest town in Texas is Ysleta, 14 miles below El Paso, founded in 1582 by Spaniards.

The Governor's mansion in Austin is remarkable for the facts that:

(1) It was built in 1855 and first occupied by Governor Pease.
(2) William Roger Houston was the first child born there.
(3) Sam Houston Allred was the last.

(Present Governor W. Lee O'Daniel is the first governor to hold regular broadcasts from the mansion.)

The French embassy in Austin is the only one ever erected by a foreign government in the United States.

A Chicago syndicate built the State Capitol in exchange for three million acres of public land. It is the only state capital in the United States not built by taxpayers' money.

The first college in Texas was established at Ruthersville, in Fayette County, in 1840.

At one time during 1925 all the members of the Texas Supreme Court were women. They were Mrs. Hortense Ward, Miss Ruth Virginia Brazzil, and Miss Hattie L. Hennenberg.

The Alabama Indians in Polk County are the only Indians living in Texas today.

Lieutenant Governor Coke Stevenson is the only Lieutenant Governor to have been twice elected Speaker of the House before he was elected Lieutenant Governor.

Two Texas Governors, Pat Neff and Oran M. Roberts, have been authors.

FERGUSONS ASK: 'IS THE LEGISLATURE TO BLAME?'

Our present governor has shed tears as big as a biscuit over inmates of our eleemosynary institutions and has shouted through the microphone about his betrayal by the legislature which refused to back his efforts to help these poor unfortunates.

In the first issue of his private newspaper, dated April 8th, in announcing for re-election the governor states: "I found our eleemosynary institutions wholly inadequate to take care of the insane, the blind and the feeble-minded, and many of these unfortunate people housed in firetraps and languishing in jail." In the April 29th issue of his paper a screaming headline on the front page informs us that 800 insane are now confined in jails for lack of room in State hospitals.

It is not a pleasant task to be forced to call a four-flusher's hand or to expose stark hypocrisy in public office, but taxpayers are entitled to facts.

The governor has repeatedly boasted of vetoing five million dollars in the appropriation bill but has remained strangely silent about the individual items. Of the five million dollars which he cut out, $1,821,325 was money which the legislature had appropriated for the support of eleemosynary institutions. Included in this amount was $1,524,674 which was to be distributed between the ten State hospitals for the insane which would have gone a long way toward remedying the condition which is now rending the Governor's heart.

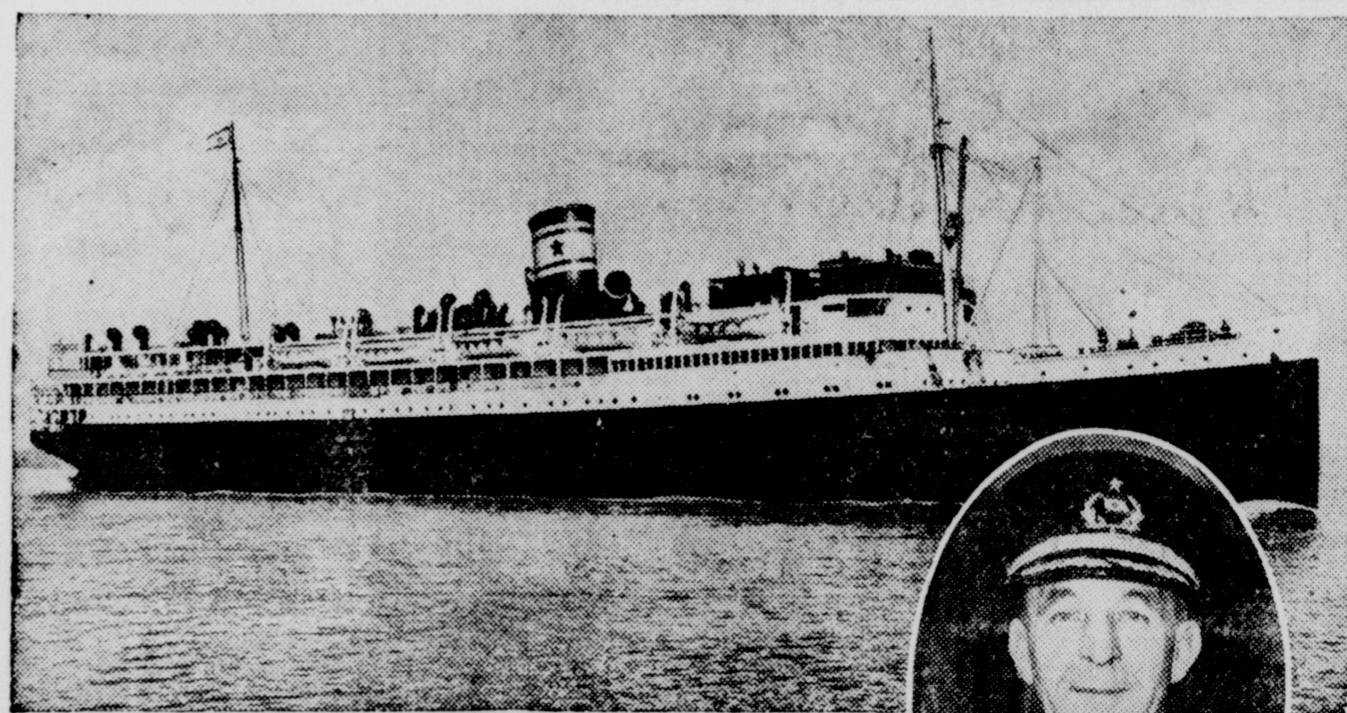

Other items vetoed by the governor included: $138,000 for two of our State tubercular hospitals; $70,131 for two of our State orphans' homes; $50,520 for the Texas School for the Blind; $38,000 for the two institutions for wayward boys and girls.

Let's see if the governor can hang this on the legislature.

The Fergusons have never vetoed one dollar appropriated for our eleemosynary institutions in the past and will not do so in the future.

Approaching Marriage Announced At Tea

Mrs. Bowen Pope entertained in her home Saturday afternoon with a tea announcing the approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Doris Pope, to Mr. George Kinney, of Stamford. The wedding will take place, Tuesday, June 4, at the home of the bride's parents.

For the occasion a color scheme of gold and white was used in decorations with a daisy theme predominating. Roses and snapdragons were arranged in bouquets throughout the entertaining rooms.

The dining table was covered with an imported lace cloth over yellow satin and was laid with crystal. The centerpiece was a large bowl filled with shasta daisies and fever few on a reflector. Yellow tapers burned in crystal candelabra. An arrangement of powder puff daisies and yellow snapdragons surrounded by garlands of honeysuckle formed the buffet decorations.

Guests were welcomed at the door by Mrs. R. D. Moore. From a table centered with daisies across which was placed a white streamer inscribed in gold, "These daisies will tell," Mrs. Delma Shelburne presented a daisy to which was attached a card tied with yellow and white satin ribbon bearing the announcement, "Doris and George, June 4, 1940."

In the receiving line were Mrs. Pope, Miss Doris Pope, Mrs. J. H. Kinney, of Stamford, Mrs. Richard Hinkle, of Midland, Mrs. T. A. Hicks, of Wichita Falls, Mrs. O. A. Kinney and Mrs. Ralph Ross, of Stamford.

Mrs. Tom Williams invited guests into the dining room where Mrs. G. R. Bennett and Mrs. O. A. Kinney presided at the table for the first hour and Mrs. Tate May and Mrs. W. C. Russell for the second hour. They were assisted in serving by Miss Eleanor Temple, Mrs. Ira Clements, Mrs. Arlie Cassle and Mrs. B. M. Brundage.

Miss Edwina Gilbert directed guests to the library where Mrs. J. Frank Johnson and Miss Ann Hudson, of Haskell, received. The hand-made bride's book of lace and chiffon was presided over by Miss Sue Kinney of Stamford and Miss Loucille Willis.

Goodbyes were said by Mrs. Wallace Walton and Mrs. Frank M. Lawlis.

During the tea hour piano selections were played by Mrs. Russell and Miss Gilbert.

The honoree wore a dress of pink chantilly lace over pink taffeta fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and full skirt. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of blue cornflowers tied with silver ribbon.

Out-of-town guests attending were from Stamford, Anson, Rotan, Wichita Falls and Midland.

Lovely Luncheon Closes Club Year

The Trece Senoras club closed the present year with a luncheon at one o'clock Tuesday, in the home of Mrs. Frank Lawlis when the high score winners were entertained by the losers. The hostesses included Mrs. Lawlis, Mrs. Ray Jones, Mrs. Willard Maberry, Mrs. Vera Nobles, Mrs. Roy Gilbreath, Mrs. W. E. Akers and Mrs. C. F. Butcher.

The entertaining rooms were attractively decorated with roses and other spring flowers. The floral theme was accentuated in place cards, game appointments and favors, which were tiny vases filled with sweetpeas.

Following the luncheon games of bridge were played in which Mrs. Clinton Barrow made high score. Others playing besides the hostesses were Mrs. L. H. McBride, Mrs. Clinton Barrow, Mrs. Bill Rountree, Mrs. Otis Hopper, Mrs. M. T. Hudson and Mrs. Delma Shelburne.

Miss Hermona Shadle Honored At Tea

Entertaining in the home of Mrs. Arlie Cassle, Mrs. Cassle, Mrs. Delma Shelburne, Miss Geneva Allbritton and Miss Camille Smyers were co-hostesses, Thursday afternoon, for a gift tea honoring Miss Hermona Shadle, whose marriage to Mr. Ernest Jenkins will take place, Thursday, June 6.

The entertaining rooms were attractively decorated with roses and Queen Anne's lace. A pastel color scheme was emphasized in the cover of the bride's book which was an old fashioned bridal bouquet, and favors which were tiny bridal bouquets tied with satin ribbons.

Guests were welcomed by Mrs. Cassle who presented the honoree, and her mother, Mrs. H. H. Shadle of Aspermont, and Mrs. O. L. Jenkins. Mrs. Shelburne, Miss Allbritton and Miss Smyers assisted in receiving and entertaining.

For the program Miss Juanita Harbert gave a "Toast to the Bride," Miss Zelma Wilson toasted the "Girls Left Behind," and Miss Elva Greenway read "Creation of Woman."

Gifts were presented in a small red wagon with the inscription, "Hermona and Ernest, June 6th," on either side.

The color theme was repeated in the refreshment plate which held ice cream and individual cakes fashioned as white wedding bells inscribed June 6th, in pastel shades.

METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. John W. Hendrix, Pastor

This is to announce that the pastor and his wife intend to arrive next Friday, the 31st. At present we are about twenty-five miles south-east of Memphis, Tenn., and on a plantation. In the party there are eleven of us. Of these are four sisters of the family, the first time they have been together in twenty years. This scribe has lived alone, lived out west, away from his people, lived this way for years and years. It becomes a most appreciated opportunity.

There will be services both morning and evening. The subject of the morning sermon, "What Holds Together?" And for the evening, "How Wise Is An Owl?" An endeavor will be made to explain these two questions.

Leagues—7 P. M. Each in its place. These offer a worthwhile opportunity to all according to age.

THE LETTER

Well, Bowen, we've had a great trip. It took us two easy days' driving to arrive, only 740 miles from Hamlin. My sisters planned a family reunion and my four sisters got together. I'm the only brother to arrive. It rained two days and today it has been clear. I went out to where the colored boys were plowing and plowed some with an old one-horse plow. Also I ran a tractor for quite a time.

We leave here Tuesday morning for Oklahoma City where we will attend the Jurisdictional Conference for several days—till Friday, when we are driving home.

Kindest Regards,
JOHN HENDRIX

BAPTIST CHURCH

Last Sunday proved to be a good day in our church. With five additions in the morning service and two good congregations throughout the day, we felt that the day was well spent. At the close of a two month period we have maintained an average attendance of 310, the goal set before the beginning of this quarter.

This coming Sunday is the beginning of a new month. This is the last month of this quarter, and if we maintain the same high goals we have been reaching, we will have to put forth our very best efforts. Be in Sunday School Sunday at 9:45. Then, at 10:50 the morning worship service begins. You leave out a vital part of life when you fail to join in the worship service. Come with open minds and open hearts. These services, together with the Training Union service at 7:00 and the evening worship service at 8:00, should attract every Baptist in this community this coming Sunday.

We are urging laymen to attend all of the services of the church this month. At the next monthly Brotherhood meeting, which we voted to have at the close of the men's rally last Friday night, we will check up and see how many men have attended all the services of the church for a month. Is that asking too much? Not when we think of the value of the church. I know members of civic organizations who will not miss a meeting of their club except under very unusual conditions. Surely the church deserves even greater consideration. MEN, WE WANT YOU SUNDAY. Let it be said of our church that it is not only for women and children, but it is for men as well.

"See you at Church Sunday."
H. E. EAST, Pastor

BROTHERHOOD ORGANIZED

"This is the largest group of men I have spoken to in a pre-organizational meeting." This statement was made by Judge E. S. Cummings, President of District 17 Brotherhood to the pastor after speaking to over seventy men at the First Baptist church last Friday night. This was a compliment to the local church when it is remembered that Judge Cummings is a much sought for speaker on occasions of this kind. Mr. E. M. Collier, Supt. of Hendrick Memorial Hospital of Abilene, and Rev. James Alexander, Director of City Missions sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Abilene, also spoke on the work done by the Brotherhood organization of the First Baptist Church of that city.

After the inspirational addresses brought by these visitors, the men of the First Baptist Church voted to organize a Brotherhood in their church. A nominating committee was appointed to recommend officers for the organization at the next regular meeting.

The Brotherhood is a movement for the enlistment of men in the work of their individual churches, and of the denomination. Its purpose is to deepen spirituality, promote religious intelligence, cultivate fellowship; to seek, in a masculine and earnest way, to lead lost men to Christ and to co-operate with all existing agencies of the church and denomination in the promotion of the general work.

Miss Hawkins Praises The Electrical Range

"The advent of the electric range makes it as old-fashioned for the home-maker of today to stand over a piping hot stove from morning to night as it would be for her to broom-sweep her rugs instead of using a vacuum cleaner," says Miss Eudora Hawkins, who is conducting the two-day cooking school opening here in Hamlin today, at the Methodist Church.

"Hours of extra freedom can be had nowadays, making days longer with time saved for better things than cooking drudgery," she declared.

The electric range, now used in one out of every seven homes served by the West Texas Utilities Company, is the only type range used by her during the cooking school. Special low rates for electric cookery users, installed in recent years, makes electric service more practical than ever before, this in addition to unexcelled safety, coolness, and cleanliness.

"Cooking is a fine art," Miss Hawkins said, "and it is through the electric range that it can be done efficiently without the weary details that have often made it impossible for a good cook to have the energy and enthusiasm left with which to enjoy a meal of her own preparation."

If Hamlin is to outsmart the mosquito, everybody must clean out, clean up and keep clean. The best time to start is NOW.

Orange or lemon peel or anything sweet, or juicy, makes good food for mosquitos. So keep your place clean and help starve them NOW.

"HE WOULD APPROVE OUR RECORD HERE"

The cost of all Electric Service used in the average home today is no more than for light alone just one generation ago.

Something ought to be done about this!

Forty years ago there were few women who didn't know the back-breaking misery of doing a family washing over a tub and a washboard.

Today, few women have that experience.

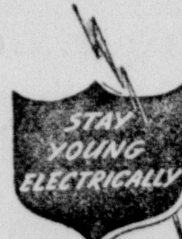

What made the change? First of all, someone said, "Something ought to be done about it."

In those words you have the real slogan of America. Great inventions, great industries, great social benefits result from Americans' deep desire for better living. The electrical industry, for example, was founded by Thomas A. Edison, a man who spent his entire life looking for better ways to do certain things; and today the people of your electric company carry on in the Edison tradition. They belong to the great army of workers—engineers, scientists, linemen, managers and many others—who give the United States the finest, cheapest electric service in the world. Yet they continue their tireless efforts to improve the quality of electric service and to reduce its cost.

Within the last fifteen years, these employees have done their work so well that this company has been able to cut the unit price of electricity just about in half. That means you can now use electric light, a radio, electric refrigerator, washing machine, vacuum cleaner and toaster for a total operating cost very little, if any, higher than you used to pay for light alone.

The aim of your electric company's employees is always to give you better service at less cost. Foremost in their minds is the thought, "Something ought to be done about it."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

(By BOYCE HOUSE)

Wherever pecans are known, the Burkett pecan is known. J. H. Burkett is the man who discovered and perfected the variety which bears his name. This observer recalls — after the lapse of a good many years — the privilege of a visit to the patent tree, under the personal guidance of Representative Omar Burkett of Eastland, son of the man who developed the pecan.

And now, J. H. Burkett at an age when 80 is not far away, has begun a new study—the study of grass.

Grass is commonplace—it is taken for granted. But Walt Whitman called it, "The handkerchief of the Lord." Carl Sandburg wrote: "Pile the bodies high at Austerlitz and Waterloo, Shovel them under and let me work I am the grass; I cover all."

John J. Ingalls said it this way: "Grass is the forgiveness of nature—her constant benediction. Fields trampled with battle, saturated with blood, and carnage are forgotten.

"Forests decay, harvests perish, flowers vanish but grass is immortal. It bears no blazonry of bloom to charm the senses with fragrance or splendor but its homely hue is more enchanting than the lily or the rose. It yields no fruit in earth or air, and yet—should its harvest fail for a single year—famine would depopulate the world."

As Mr. Burkett says, "Our civilization depends upon grass." Flocks and herds marked the beginning of civilization. Not only does it still provide sustenance for unnumbered sheep and countless cattle grazing upon a thousand hills, but grass provides a background of beauty, a soft restfulness for the eye. Imagine what a bleak, brown bare world this would be without grass. Further, grass prevents floods and stores up the bountiful water of spring against a later need and it holds the good earth, with its rich fertility, in place.

Perhaps Mr. Burkett will be able to develop grasses adapted to our Western ranges—hardy, drouth-resisting. Grass too may be the answer to the challenge of the winds sweeping in blinding clouds through a "dust bowl."

And think of the spirit of a man, well past the three score years and ten mark, taking up a new study. The lines of Browning on "Rabbi Ben Ezra" come to mind:

"Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be;
The last of life, for which the first was made."

More lawyer jests for our "old joke" competition:

A man, just acquitted of cow-stealing because of his lawyer's eloquent speech to the jury, asked the attorney as they were leaving the courtroom, "Does that mean I get to keep the cow?"

That defendant probably was the same man who, before his trial, was asked by a friend, "Are you guilty?" and he replied, "How do I know till I hear the evidence?"

Then there was the man who went to a lawyer's office and inquired, "Suppose my cow was to get into your garden and ate up $8 worth of vegetables, would I be responsible?" To which the attorney replied, "Yes, sir." The citizen laughed and said, "Well, pay me, then; because it was your cow that got into my garden." The lawyer handed over $8 and then said, "Now, my friend, you owe me $10 for legal advice."

It's the squeakink' axle that gets the grease—as my grandpa ust to say.

Some years ago, when this observer was on the staff of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Harold Banks—then state editor—heard that there had been a fire, the night before, in a small town so he called the local correspondent. The latter had been out of town and promised to investigate and report back—which he did, in a few minutes.

"The fire wasn't in town," he said, "and it wasn't much of a fire—just a farm-house."

"I see," Banks replied and was just about to express his thanks and hang up the receiver but the correspondent remarked casually, "By the way, one of the children burned to death."

"What!" gasped Banks. "And another one isn't expected to live," the correspondent continued. "The farmer and his wife were burned also in trying to rescue the children. He threw the year-old baby out of the window and the little fellow didn't get a scratch. Also he had just sold his crop the day before and all the money was burned up."

By this time Banks had gotten his breath:

"I see—not much of a fire; one dead, one dying, two others burned, baby miraculously saved and the earnings of an entire year destroyed."

The other said, "Yeah, that's right—and, say, Blankville plays football here next Friday and you tell Boyce House we want a darn good writeup."

A Gentle Laxative Good For Children

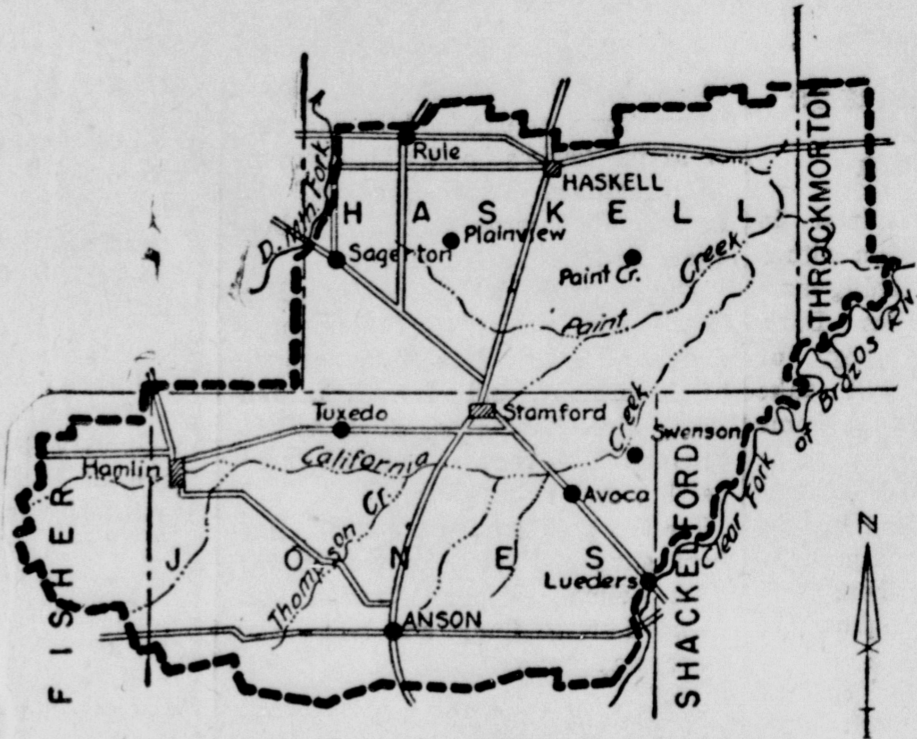

Most any child who takes this tasty laxative once will welcome it the next time he's constipated and it has him headachy, cross, listless, with bad breath, coated tongue or little appetite.

Syrup of Black-Draught is a tasty liquid companion to the famous BLACK-DRAUGHT. The principal ingredient is the same in both products; helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles.

The Syrup's flavor appeals to most children, and, given by the simple directions, its action is usually gentle, but thorough. Remember Syrup of Black-Draught next time. Two sizes: 50c and 25c.

America Builds FOR BETTER, EASIER LIVING

THE ALL-GAS HOME IS PREFERRED!

A survey of 76,900 new homes built in natural gas territory last year in America reveals that 92 per cent reported the use of natural gas for cooking; 95 per cent used natural gas for water heating; 88 per cent used natural gas for house heating, and 11 per cent reported the installation of new gas refrigerators.

This is magnificent evidence that today's gas household appliances are far superior in performance, smarter in appearance and more economical to operate.

Let this evidence guide you with your own building or modernizing for a home that provides easier, better living.

BOTULISM

During hot weather there are always numerous cases of botulism (Limberneck). Limberneck is caused by a poison that is found in decayed or spoiled meat and sometimes in decayed feed around stock lots. Poultry can become sick either by eating the poison or by eating the worms that have eaten the poison. Limberneck is recognized easily when in the last stages as the head hangs down. Either before or after it has reached this stage it can be diagnosed by pulling on the feathers. When they come out as though the chicken had been scalded, that is definite indication that the bird has been poisoned. At the first sign of limberneck give Epsom salts in the drinking water and keep the flock up until the poisoned substance has been located and removed.

JONES CO., TEXAS

(By G. D. T.)

A man from Jones County went to the Concho, near San Angelo, on a fishing trip. One afternoon while he was fishing one of the natives of that sector came along the bank of the stream and asked if he was having any luck. After some conversation the Jones County man asked where the people in that vicinity fished. The following was the reply he received: "Well, most everybody around this part goes up to Lueders in Jones County when they want to fish."

There were ninety head of cattle exhibited at the second annual Dairy Classification Day at Anson on Friday and fifty entries in the Dairy Products division of the show, again giving Anson the distinction of having the largest dairy day in this section of the state.

Some grain is being combined in the Delk community, east of Hawley, although we have no report on the yield. This community also had about four inches of rain last week.

Damage from grasshoppers is again being reported in various communities of the county, with the worst damage being done in the Willow Creek and Tuxedo communities.

E. R. Eudaly, dairy specialist from A. & M. College, who judged the dairy cattle at the show here last Friday, said in part, "What you people in Jones County need is plenty of good cheap green feed, and the way to get that feed for your dairy cattle is by storing the green feed in trench silos. Many of the farmers in the county would not have to dig a silo, since there are ditches in their fields that would make excellent silos. All you have to do is smooth the sides and fill them, cover them up and you will have good dairy feed." He also pointed out that one man in the state had kept ensilage in a trench silo for 20 years and that it was as good as when it was put in.

The election for the purpose of establishing a soil conservation district in the north half of Jones and in adjoining counties, held Saturday, carried by a 78 per cent vote.

Members of the Anson Post of the American Legion, attended a Legion meeting at Abilene on Monday night when matters of national defense were discussed.

Twenty-seven bales of cotton and ticking, for the mattress making program in the county, arrived in Anson Friday and will be distributed to the various mattress making rooms over the county.

Blossom Time Is Cabriolet Time

It's hard to realize, in the midst of such weather as much of the country has been experiencing, that scenes like the above are just around the corner, chronologically speaking. Experience and the weather man, however, both assert that they are. As a matter of fact, the blooms in the photo are almond blossoms, the locale California, and the car Chevrolet's new cabriolet with vacuum-operated top, controlled from the dash.

Girls Are Advised To Build-Up For Relief

Lack of knowledge causes many a weak, undernourished girl a lot of suffering!

Many others, however, know how the headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition are helped by the proper use of CARDUI.

Some take it a few days before and during "the time," to help ease periodic distress. But CARDUI's principal use is to help increase appetite; stimulate the flow of gastric juice; so aid digestion, assist in building up physical resistance and thus help reduce periodic distress. Women have used CARDUI for over 50 years.

Cooley first gave the scripture, then a very sweet prayer was read by Betty Jo Green. Two interesting talks, "Know Truth, Know God," and "The Greatest Discovery," were given by Lester Jenkins and Elvin Cooley.

After the program was completed we discussed sending one of our members to McMurry to attend the Summer Assembly. The assembly will begin June 3 and continue thru June 7. Either Lester Jenkins or Vada Taylor will be privileged to take this trip.

Rev. Byrd brought a most interesting sermon last Sunday evening. Alvis Cooley will bring the messages next Sunday morning and evening as Rev. Turner asked for a leave to be present at a homecoming with his church at Pleasant Valley.

Miss Earnestine Reed and her mother were greatly missed at church Sunday. Miss Reed will not be with us again until school starts in the fall.
